SALT LAKE MAYOR PRESENTS COY AWARDS

Salt Lake City – Salt Lake Mayor Peter Corroon will be presenting the 2007 COY awards today at 4 p.m. in the Council Chambers at the Salt Lake County Building, 2001 S. State Street.

This year's winners include Camp West Lake After-School Program, Poder Para La Familia Hispana, Community of Grace ACTS!, Sherri Van Bibber, who began the Work Place Readiness Program and Murray Youth Chamber of Commerce and Cara Cerise, who runs the Utah Chapter of the National Group Children of Gays and Lesbians Everywhere (COLAGE) and is a counselor for Camp Anytown with the NCCJ, as well as running the NCCJ sponsored school club "Building One New Dream". They will be recognized for their contribution to the lives of children and youth in Salt Lake County.

COY – Commission on Youth — is a volunteer advisory board of the Salt Lake County Division of Youth Services comprised of 32 individuals in business, government, school districts and the community who have been appointed by Mayor Corroon to advocate for youth policies.
